Principal's Message

The Alameda Community Learning Center (ACLC) is a public charter school of the Alameda Unified School District. Now in its 14th year of operation, the ACLC is the only charter school in Alameda County to be awarded the California Distinguished School Award. In the fall of 2007 and again in 2008, US News and World Report named the ACLC as one of the top high schools in the nation. (Bronze Award) In the spring of 2008, ACLC was recognized by the California Charter Schools Association as a "Certified Charter School." As a charter school, ACLC accepts all of its learners by random lottery. All Alameda residents are welcome to apply during the open enrollment period during February of each year.

Discipline & Climate for Learning

Learners at the Alameda Community Learning Center are guided by specific rules and classroom expectations that promote respect, cooperation, courtesy and acceptance of others. The goal of Alameda Community Learning Center discipline program is to have the community enforce these rules and expectations through its learner-led Judicial Committee. Parents and Learners are informed of school rules and discipline policies through the "Learner Planner" which is distributed to each learner and reviewed at the beginning of the school year.

The Suspensions and Expulsions table illustrates total cases for the last three years, as well as a percentage of enrollment. Suspensions are expressed in terms of total infractions, not number of students suspended, as some learners may have been suspended on multiple occasions. Expulsions occur only when required by law or when all other alternatives are exhausted.

Students are encouraged to participate in the school's additional academic and extracurricular activities, which are an integral part of the educational program. These schoolwide and classroom incentives promote positive attitudes, encourage achievement, and aid in the prevention of behavioral problems. Extracurricular activities, clubs, and programs include: Ultimate Frisbee, the Future Leader's Institute, and the Gay / Straight Alliance. The school's interscholastic athletic programs promote individual and team-oriented achievement and self-esteem through school-sponsored teams that compete with other schools in the area. Athletic programs include: ACLC Ultimate Frisbee and all sports at Encinal High School and local middle schools. The school recognizes and celebrates the achievements and successes of learners and staff on a regular basis. Learners are recognized for their achievements during weekly community meetings.

Class Size

Average class sizes vary by grade level and subject area taught. In addition to credentialed teachers, students receive assistance in the classroom from parent volunteers. The table indicates the average class size by grade level or subject area, as well as the number of classes offered in reference to their enrollment.

Safe School Plan

Safety of learners and staff is a primary concern of Alameda Community Learning Center. The school is always in compliance with all laws, rules, and regulations pertaining to hazardous materials and state earthquake standards. The School Site Safety plan was last reviewed and updated on June 5, 2006 by the ACLC Governing Board. All revisions were communicated to the both the classified and certificated staff. The school's disaster preparedness plan includes steps for ensuring student and staff safety during a disaster. All disaster preparedness is coordinated through Encinal High School. Fire and disaster drills are conducted on a regular basis throughout the school year. Lockdown drills are held once a year. Learners are supervised before and after school by certificated staff, and certificated staff supervise students during lunch. Parent volunteers with supervision during lunch and break periods. Visitors are required to be approved by the Lead Facilitator and must register with the ACLC Office Manager.

School Facilities

The Alameda Community Learning Center was originally constructed in 1995 and is comprised of 5 regular classrooms, a science laboratory, a Digital Video Studio, and a 6,000 square foot Community Room / Technology Center. Cleaning Process: The Lead Facilitator works daily with the custodial staff of 1 (0 full-time and 1 part-time) to ensure that the cleaning of the school is maintained to provide for a clean and safe school. The district governing board has adopted cleaning standards for all schools in the district. A summary of these standards are available at the district office for review. Maintenance and Repair District maintenance staff ensures that the repairs necessary to keep the school in good repair and work orders are completed in a timely manner. A work order process is used to ensure efficient service and highest priority are given to emergency repairs. While reviewing this report, please note that even minor discrepancies are reported in the inspection process. The items noted in the table have been corrected or are in the process of remediation. Deferred Maintenance Budget The district participates in the State School Deferred Maintenance Program, which provides matching funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis, to assist school districts with expenditures for major repair or replacement of existing school building components. Typically this includes roofing, plumbing, heating, electrical systems, interior or exterior painting, and floor systems. For the 2008/09 school year the district allocated $444,917 for deferred maintenance program. This represents .5% of the district's general fund budget.

Teacher Assignment

Alameda City Unified recruits and employs the most qualified credentialed teachers. For the 2008-2009 school year, Alameda Community Learning Center had 9 fully credentialed teachers who met all credential requirements in accordance with State of California guidelines. Teacher misassignments reflect the number of placements within a school for which the certificated employee in the teaching or services position (including positions that involve teaching English Learners) does not hold a legally recognized certificate or credential.

Data Sources

Data within the SARC was provided by Alameda City Unified School District, retrieved from the 2007-08 SARC template, and/or located on Dataquest (<http://data1.cde.ca.gov/dataquest>). Dataquest is a search engine, maintained by the California Department of Education (CDE), which allows the public to search for facts and figures pertaining to schools and districts throughout the state. Among the data available, parents and community may find information about school performance, test scores, student demographics, staffing, and student misconduct/intervention.

Counseling & Support Staff

It is the goal of the Alameda Community Learning Center to assist learners in their social and personal development as well as academics. The school gives special attention to learners who experience achievement problems, difficulty coping with personal and family problems, trouble with decision making, or handling peer pressure. The counselor to pupil ratio is 1:200. The table lists the support service personnel available at Alameda Community Learning Center.

Counseling & Support Services Staff

	Number of Staff	Full Time Equivalent
Academic Counselor	1	1

Staff Development

Staff members build teaching skills and concepts by participating in many conferences and workshops throughout the year, then sharing their experiences and knowledge with district colleagues. The district dedicates 3 days to staff development annually. Topics for staff development during the 2007-08 school year included:

- Math Collaboration grades 6-12
- Departmental Collaboration grades 9-12
- Strategic Instruction Model grades 6-12

Curriculum Development

All curriculum development in the is based on the California State Content Standards and Frameworks. Curriculum guides are updated regularly by the Director of Curriculum and Instruction and Assessment Coordinator to align with the state standards, district goals, and the statewide assessment program.

During the 2008/09, changes to the curriculum included:

- Adoption of new Houghton Mifflin California Math program for elementary schools, grades K- 5
- Adoption of new Houghton Mifflin California Math programs for 6-8th grade.

Physical Fitness

In the spring of each year, Alameda Community Learning Center is required by the state to administer a physical fitness test to all students in grade nine. The physical fitness test is a standardized evaluation that tracks the development of high-quality fitness programs and assists students in establishing physical activity as part of their daily lives. Results of student performance are compared to other students statewide who took the test.

Federal Intervention Program

Schools and districts receiving federal Title I funding enter Program Improvement (PI) if they do not make AYP for two consecutive years in the same content area (English/Language Arts or Mathematics) or on the same indicator (API or graduation rate). After entering PI, schools and districts advance to the next level of intervention with each additional year that they do not make AYP.

California Standards Test

The California Standards Test (CST), a component of the STAR Program, is administered to all students in the spring to assess student performance in relation to the State Content Standards. Student scores are reported as performance levels: Advanced (exceeds state standards), Proficient (meets standards), Basic (approaching standards), Below Basic (below standards), and Far Below Basic (well below standards). The combined percentage of students scoring at the Proficient and Advanced levels in English/Language Arts, Math, Social Science, Science, for the most recent three-year period, is shown. Summative scores are not available for Math (grades 8-11), Science (available for grades 5 and 8 only), and grade 9 Social Science. For results on course specific tests, please see <http://star.cde.ca.gov>.

Dropout & Graduation Rates

The Alameda Community Learning Center believes that effective instruction consists of the continuous building of new concepts upon existing ones and requires regular attendance and participation. In hopes of preventing and reducing dropouts, the following programs are made available to students: Humanities Lab, Math Lab, Special Study Teams, and Individualized Tutoring.

Adequate Yearly Progress

No Child Left Behind (NCLB) is a federal law enacted in January 2002 that reauthorized the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA). It mandates that all students (including students who are economically disadvantaged, are from racial or ethnic minority groups, have disabilities, or have limited English proficiency) in all grades meet the state academic achievement standards for Mathematics and English/Language Arts by 2014.

Schools must demonstrate "Adequate Yearly Progress" (AYP) toward achieving that goal. The federal NCLB Act requires that all schools and districts meet the following Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) requirements:

- Participation rate on the state's standards-based assessments in English/Language Arts (ELA) and Mathematics.
- Percent proficient on the state's standards-based assessments in ELA and Mathematics.
- API as an additional indicator.
- Graduation rate (for secondary schools).

There are several consequences for schools that do not meet the AYP standards, including additional tutoring and replacing of staff. Students would also be allowed to transfer to schools (within their district) that have met their AYP's, and the former school would be required to provide the transportation to the new site. Results of school and district performance are displayed in the chart.

Completion of High School Graduation Requirements

Completion of High School Graduation Requirements

School District State

* Data was not available at the time of publication.

Beginning with the graduating class of 2006, students in California public schools must pass both the English-language arts and mathematics portions of the California High School Exit Examination (CAHSEE) to receive a high school diploma. For students who began the 2006-07 school year in the 12th grade, the table displays by student group the percent who met all state and local graduation requirements for grade 12 completion, including having passed both portions of the CAHSEE or received a local waiver or state exemption. Detailed information about the CAHSEE can be found at the CDE Web site at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/tg/hs/>. Note: "*" means that the student group is not numerically significant.

California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE)

The California High School Exit Exam is primarily used as a graduation requirement in California, but the results of this exam are also used to determine Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) for high schools, as required by the Federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) law. The CAHSEE has an English language-arts section and a math section and, for purposes of calculating AYP, three performance levels were set: Advanced, Proficient, and Not Proficient. The score a student must achieve to be considered Proficient is different than the passing score for the graduation requirement.

The first table displays the percent of students achieving at the Proficient or Advanced level for the past three years.

CAHSEE By Student Group
	English			Mathematics
	Not Proficient	Proficient	Advanced	Not Proficient	Proficient	Advanced

Caucasian	13.3	13.3	73.3	33.3	53.3	13.3

The second table displays the percent of students, by group, achieving at each performance level in English language-arts and math separately for the most recent testing period.

National Assessment of Educational Progress

The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) is a nationally representative assessment of what America's students know and can do in various subject areas. Assessments are conducted periodically in mathematics, reading, science, writing, the arts, civics, economics, geography, and U.S. history. Student scores for reading and mathematics are reported as performance levels (i.e., basic, proficient, and advanced) and the participation of students with disabilities (SD) and English language learners (ELL) is reported based on three levels (identified, excluded, and assessed). Detailed information regarding the NAEP results for each grade, performance level, and participation rate can be found on the National Assessment of Educational Progress Web page at <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/>.

The first table displays the National Assessment of Educational Progress Results for reading (2007) and mathematics (2009) for grades four and eight by scale score and achievement level.

The second table displays the participation rates on the National Assessment of Educational Progress for reading (2007) and mathematics (2009) by students with disabilities and/or English language learners for grades four and eight.

NOTE: Only a sample group of California's schools and districts participate in the NAEP testing cycle. Therefore, students in any particular school or district may not be included in these results. The NAEP reflects state test results and is not reflective of either the LEA or the individual school.

Academic Performance Index

The Academic Performance Index (API) is a score on a scale of 200 to 1,000 that annually measures the academic performance and progress of individual schools in California. On an interim basis, the state has set 800 as the API score that schools should strive to meet. Statewide Rank: Schools receiving an API Base score are ranked in ten categories of equal size (deciles) from 1 (lowest) to 10 (highest), according to type of school (elementary, middle, or high school). Similar Schools Rank: Schools also receive a ranking that compares that school to 100 other schools with similar demographic characteristics. Each set of 100 schools is ranked by API score from 1 (lowest) to 10 (highest) to indicate how well the school performed compared to similar schools.

Instructional Materials

AUSD held a Public Hearing on September 22, 2009, and determined that each school within the District has sufficient and good quality textbooks, instructional materials, or science lab equipment pursuant to the settlement of Williams vs. the State of California. All students, including English learners, are given their own individual standards-aligned textbooks or instructional materials, or both, in core subjects for use in the classroom and to take home. Textbooks and supplementary materials are adopted according to a cycle developed by the State Department of Education, making the textbooks used in the school the most current available. Materials approved for use by the State are reviewed by all teachers and a recommendation is made to the School Board by a selection committee composed of teachers and administrators. All recommended materials are available for parent examination at the district office prior to adoption. The table displays information about the quality, currency, and availability of the standards-aligned textbooks and other instructional materials used at the school. In addition, ASTI students use college texts provided in their classes at College of Alameda.

College Entrance Info

California high school students have two options for attending public universities in the State: Universities of California (UC), or California State Universities (CSU). There are eight UC campuses statewide, and 28 CSU schools. A college preparatory high school program includes a minimum of the following courses, referred to as the "A-G requirements."

A: Two years of history/social science

B: Four years of English

C: Three years of college preparatory mathematics (Four recommended for UC)

D: Two years of laboratory science (Three recommended for UC)

E: Two years of a single language other than English (Three recommended for UC)

F: One year of visual/performing arts

G: One year of a college preparatory elective in one of the above subjects

All courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or better. The minimum GPA required for admission to a UC is 3.15, and 2.0 for the CSU system. For more information about admissions to UC schools, please visit www.ucop.edu/pathways. To prepare for entrance to a CSU school, visit www.csumentor.edu.
