Principal's Message

Welcome to the Home of the Wolves, San Ramon Valley High School (SRVHS). SRVHS serves students grades nine through twelve. Our school has a long standing tradition of excellence in education. SRVHS had its beginning in 1910. The present site was purchased in 1917 and it served as the only secondary school in the district until 1965.

San Ramon Valley High School has a strong college preparatory program that includes many honors and Advanced Placement courses. Ninety-six percent of our students advance to post-secondary education. As a comprehensive high school, SRVHS offers courses in art, business, choral and instrumental music, drama, technology, and physical education. Students also have the opportunity to take accelerated classes at the University of California, Berkeley, Diablo Valley College, and Cal State East Bay. We suggest that our students explore these areas as well as courses offered by the Regional Occupation Program.

We encourage all students to become involved in the many co-curricular activities available, such as the boys' and girls' athletic programs, academic competitions, a variety of student clubs, many different visual arts programs, and student government.

The staff at San Ramon Valley High School is made up of excellent teachers, counselors, administrators, and support personnel who are dedicated to helping our students develop and achieve their goals.

Our high school is focused on student learning and is striving to become a professional learning community. We are currently answering four basic questions:

- What do we want our student to know and/or do?
- How do we know they have learned it/can demonstrate it?
- What do we do if they cannot?
- What do we do for those who can?

To find the answers to those questions, we have implemented the following steps:

Step One: We have established departmental and course level teams who are collaborating on what we want students to know and do. These teams are talking about and sharing ideas about curriculum and the pacing of that curriculum.

Step Two: Departments and course level teams have been asked to create formative assessments, to analyze the data generated by these assessments, and to make the necessary instructional adjustments to ensure student learning.

Step Three: Providing systematic intervention for those students who are not learning. Over the next year, we will be conducting departmental and school-wide brainstorming sessions as to which intervention strategies will work best at San Ramon Valley High School.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Ianora, Principal
(Email jianora@srvhs.org)

School Profile

San Ramon Valley High School (SRVHS) located in Danville, California, has a long-standing tradition of excellence. Since 1910, SRVHS has been committed to providing an education that fosters the intellectual, physical, and social development of each student. Our strong tradition of excellence emanates from our dedicated staff, responsible students, committed parents, and active community partners who contribute to the school's and students' successes. Through a comprehensive system of support programs, we ensure that all students are connected to the school. This is accomplished through a wide array of both academic and extra/co-curricular programs. The instructional goals established for each subject area are clearly tied to the achievement of rigorous content and performance standards and to our Expected School-Wide Learning Results (ESLRs).

As we, at San Ramon Valley High School, move to align our curriculum to state standards and district guidelines, we are implementing Professional Learning Communities. Professional Learning Communities (PLC's) shift the focus from teaching to student learning by asking three essential questions:

1. What do we want the students to know?
2. How do we know they have learned it?
3. What do we do if they don't?

These questions will help our staff focus on the best educational practices for our students. Through consistent collaboration and feedback, students will receive the help they need to master the educational material as well as achieve their highest potential.

San Ramon Valley High School's vision is aligned with the district's vision/mission statement and their objectives. Our vision is to create a community, in a safe and educationally rich environment that prepares each of our students to live a healthy, productive, and fulfilling life in the global and technological world of the 21st century. To that end, we are committed to foster the intellectual, physical and social development of each student: to teach all students how to learn so that intellectual growth may continue throughout life; to model tolerance and respect for self and others in order to promote teamwork and community effort in our multi-cultural society; and to help students link learning to personal visions and goals for self and for society so that they may help to shape the world in which they live.

Enrollment By Grade

School districts receive financial support from the state for the education of the students they serve based on how many students attend each day. Most importantly, students who attend school on a regular basis and are on time are more likely to be academically successful. Attendance and punctuality are emphasized so that the continuity of the educational program can be maintained. Our staff carefully monitors student attendance to identify those students exhibiting excessive absences and offers assistance when necessary.

The total 2009-2010 enrollment at San Ramon Valley High School is 2029.

This chart illustrates the enrollment trend by grade level for the past 3 school years.

Class Size

Average class sizes vary by grade level and subject area taught. In addition to credentialed teachers, students may receive assistance in the classroom from other paraprofessionals. The type of "para" differs from site to site, depending on grade level, need, funding and staff discretion. SRVUSD schools, in varying degrees, also have the benefit of parent volunteers on campus, in the classroom, and for extracurricular activities such as field trips.

The table indicates the average class size by grade level or subject area, as well as the number of classes offered in reference to their enrollment.

Staff Development

Staff development is funded by the School Improvement Program. Release days for whole-staff professional training are made possible in SRVUSD through the School-Based Coordination Act. We have a total of three staff development days this year. An adjusted Tuesday morning schedule provides additional time for staff development to occur on a regular, ongoing basis.

Counseling & Support Staff

It is the goal of San Ramon Valley High to assist students in their social and personal development as well as academics. The school gives special attention to students who experience achievement problems, difficulty coping with personal and family problems, trouble with decision making, managing stress in their lives, or handling peer pressure. The counselor to pupil ratio is 1:510. The table lists some of the support service personnel available at San Ramon Valley High.

Contact Information

Parents or community members who wish to participate in leadership teams, school committees, school activities, or become a volunteer may contact San Ramon Valley High at (925) 552-3000.

Parent Involvement

Parent support groups donate thousands of hours of time and raise over $300,000 annually to support school programs. Notable among these groups are the Parent-Teacher-Student Association (PTSA), the Academic Boosters, the Fine Arts Association, the Athletic Boosters, and the Wolf Tones (instrumental music). Community groups including the Kiwanis Club, Rotary, Business Roundtable, and Soroptimists provide school services, awards, and scholarships. Parent and community cooperation provides a substance-free Graduation Night for the senior class each year. Parents also participate on the School Site Council. Excellence has been achieved and is maintained at San Ramon Valley High School because of the continuous support of these parent and community groups. In turn, students give back to the community by providing volunteer services and spirit in a variety of ways. For additional information about organized opportunities for parent involvement at San Ramon Valley High School, please contact- Christine Wentker, PTSA President at (925) 855-0135 wentkerfamily@sbcglobal.net.

Teacher Assignment

San Ramon Valley Unified recruits and employs the most qualified credentialed teachers. For the 2008-09 school year, San Ramon Valley High had 86 fully credentialed teachers who met all credential requirements in accordance with State of California guidelines.

Teacher misassignments reflect the number of placements within a school for which the certificated employee in the teaching or services position (including positions that involve teaching English Learners) does not hold a legally recognized certificate or credential. Teacher vacancies reflect the number of positions to which a single designated certificated employee has not been assigned at the beginning of the year for an entire year.

The Federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that all teachers in core subject areas meet certain requirements in order to be considered as "Highly Qualified" no later than the end of the 2005-06 school year. Minimum qualifications include: possession of a Bachelor's Degree, possession of an appropriate California teaching credential, and demonstrated competence in core academic subjects.

Curriculum Development

Leadership and decision making is a shared process at San Ramon Valley High School. Our present shared decision-making model revolves around effective group processes and communication. Curriculum Leaders meet on a weekly basis with the school Administrative team. Each Department meets on a monthly basis to discuss schoolwide and departmental issues. Information, suggestions, and proposals are exchanged between department representatives, classified employees, parents, counselors, administrators, and students. Once proposals have gone through the Steering committee and department channels, it is the goal of the staff to make policy decisions in the whole-staff meeting by consensus. In addition, the School Site Council functions as a group of teachers, parents, classified employees and students to oversee the School Improvement Program (SIP).

Instructional Materials

Standards-aligned and Board of Education-approved textbooks and instructional materials are available to all students including English learners to use in the classroom and to take home to complete required homework assignments. SRVUSD curriculum adoptions are consistent with the content and cycles of the curriculum frameworks adopted by the State Board of Education in the following areas: reading/language arts; mathematics; science, including grades 9-12 science laboratory equipment; history/social science; and world languages. Health curriculum was adopted in 2006, and the Social Studies curriculum in 2006-07. We completed the Science adoption in 2007-08. This past year we adopted new Math materials which have been implemented into the classroom curriculum in the fall of 2009.

Please refer to Textbooks and Instructional Materials on the district website (www.srvusd.net), under "District/ Curriculum Standards" or the link at the bottom of the chart below for a complete list of SRVUSD textbooks and literature selections.

Science Lab Equipment

All schools in the district stock an adequate supply of equipment for the students. Inventory includes, but is not limited to: microscopes, slides, ring stands, clamps, support rings, utility clamps, test tubes, test tube holders and brushes, tongs, flasks, beakers, and some sort of heating device. Micropipets, microcentrifuges, equipment required for DNA experimentation, pre-engineering modules, and advanced physics equipment is available for our students. Computer Resources

All schools in the San Ramon Valley Unified School District have at least one fixed lab with Internet-connected computers suitable for simultaneous use by an entire class of children. Most schools have an additional lab and several have additionally begun to implement mobile labs of notebook computers (COWS), enabling 1:1 or near-1:1 digital learning environments. The fixed computer labs are usually staffed by a technology paraeducator; the mobile labs are typically implemented by the regular classroom teachers. Handheld computing and response devices, as well as interactive presentation systems, are becoming more common in our schools. We are moving towards the integration of the 21st Century skills of creativity, innovation, critical thinking, problem solving, collaboration, and information/media/communications literacy with the core curriculum.

Additional Internet Access/Public Libraries

For additional research materials and Internet availability, students are encouraged to visit the public libraries located in the cities of Danville and San Ramon, or any of the Contra Costa County libraries, all of which contain numerous computer workstations. (The Walnut Creek Library is currently in a demolition/construction phase.)

Access to the Internet at libraries and public locations is generally provided on a first-come, first-served basis. Other use restrictions include the hours of operation, the length of time that a workstation may be used (depending on availability), the types of software programs available on a workstation, and the ability to print documents.

Safe School Plan

San Ramon Valley High School has long-established procedures that help assure a safe and orderly campus for students. During lunch juniors and seniors are allowed to leave campus; freshmen and sophomores must remain on the supervised campus. Visitors must check in at the office. A nurse is on duty one day per week. A recent survey indicates over 95% of our students, parents, and staff feels this is a safe environment. SRVHS is designated as a community shelter in case of a general emergency, and appropriate procedures and equipment are in place. The school safety plan is updated annually. A School Resource Office is a member of our staff. We also have two full time campus supervisors.

School Facilities

San Ramon Valley High School serves not only the San Ramon Valley High School community, but also the greater public of the San Ramon Valley through the many community activities staged at the school. The facility is maintained through the diligent efforts of the site custodial crew and district maintenance staff as well as an outside landscape corporation. The students leadership group formed "Captain Planet" a campus clean up program. The school community, through the Leadership class, Booster groups, and service groups, has also contributed to the care of the facility. A new 400 seat Performing Arts Theater was completed in 2002-03. Phase 1 construction which includes a new library/media center, cafeteria/commons was completed at the end of 2006. Phase 2 which includes a 2 story classroom building and a new small gym was started in the summer of 06 was completed for use in fall 08. We are currently under construction for a new main gymnasium.

Deferred Maintenance

For the 2008-09 school year the district spent $2,035,002 on district-wide deferred maintenance. This represented .9% of the district's general fund budget. For San Ramon Valley High, this included upgrades of the telephone system and the administration's emergency medical system, exterior paint and the administration building roof repairs.

California Standards Test

The California Standards Test (CST), a component of the STAR Program, is administered to all students in the spring to assess student performance in relation to the State Content Standards. Student scores are reported as performance levels: Advanced (exceeds state standards), Proficient (meets standards), Basic (approaching standards), Below Basic (below standards), and Far Below Basic (well below standards). The combined percentage of students scoring at the Proficient and Advanced levels in English/Language Arts, Math, Social Science, Science, for the most recent three-year period, is shown. Summative scores are not available for Math (grades 8-11), Science (available for grades 5 and 8 only), and grade 9 Social Science. For results on course specific tests, please see <http://star.cde.ca.gov>.

Academic Performance Index

San Ramon Valley High School has made great progress in the API score calculated for 2009. Our 2009 Growth Score is 885, up from the 2008 Base Score of 868. The Academic Performance Index (API) is a score on a scale of 200 to 1,000 that annually measures the academic performance and progress of individual schools in California. The state has set 800 as the API score that schools should strive to meet. San Ramon Valley High School has also met or exceeded the Statewide Rank and the Similar Schools Rank for California Schools. Statewide Rank: Schools receiving an API Base score are ranked in ten categories of equal size (deciles) from 1 (lowest) to 10 (highest), according to type of school (elementary, middle, or high school). Similar Schools Rank: Schools also receive a ranking that compares that school to 100 other schools with similar demographic characteristics. Each set of 100 schools is ranked by API score from 1 (lowest) to 10 (highest) to indicate how well the school performed compared to similar schools.

Federal Intervention Program

Schools and districts receiving Federal Title I funding enter Program Improvement (PI) if they do not make AYP for two consecutive years in the same content area (English/Language Arts or Mathematics) or on the same indicator (API or graduation rate). After entering PI, schools and districts advance to the next level of intervention with each additional year that they do not make AYP.

For the 2009-10 school year, the San Ramon Valley Unified School District has no schools with Program Improvement status, and therefore does not participate in the Federal Intervention Program.

National Assessment of Educational Progress

The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) is a nationally representative assessment of what America's students know and can do in various subject areas. Assessments are conducted periodically in mathematics, reading, science, writing, the arts, civics, economics, geography, and U.S. history. Student scores for reading and mathematics are reported as performance levels (i.e., basic, proficient, and advanced) and the participation of students with disabilities (SD) and English language learners (ELL) is reported based on three levels (identified, excluded, and assessed). Detailed information regarding the NAEP results for each grade, performance level, and participation rate can be found on the National Assessment of Educational Progress Web page at <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/>.

The first table displays the National Assessment of Educational Progress Results for reading (2007) and mathematics (2009) for grades four and eight by scale score and achievement level.

NOTE: Only a sample group of California's schools and districts participate in the NAEP testing cycle. Therefore, students in any particular school or district may not be included in these results. The NAEP reflects state test results and is not reflective of either the LEA or the individual school.

Data Sources

Data within the SARC was provided by the San Ramon Valley Unified School District, retrieved from the 2008-09 SARC template, and/or located on Dataquest (<http://data1.cde.ca.gov/dataquest>). Dataquest is a search engine, maintained by the California Department of Education (CDE), which allows the public to search for facts and figures pertaining to schools and districts throughout the state. Among the data available, parents and community may find information about school performance, test scores, student demographics, staffing, and student misconduct/intervention.

Adequate Yearly Progress

San Ramon Valley High School has met and exceeded the requirements of NCLB. No Child Left Behind (NCLB) is a federal law enacted in January 2002 that reauthorized the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA). It mandates that all students (including students who are economically disadvantaged, are from racial or ethnic minority groups, have disabilities, or have limited English proficiency) in all grades meet the state academic achievement standards for Mathematics and English/Language Arts by 2014. Schools must demonstrate "Adequate Yearly Progress" (AYP) toward achieving that goal. The federal NCLB Act requires that all schools and districts meet the following Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) requirements:

- Participation rate on the state's standards-based assessments in English/Language Arts (ELA) and Mathematics.
- Percent proficient on the state's standards-based assessments in ELA and Mathematics.
- API as an additional indicator.
- Graduation rate (for secondary schools).

There are several consequences for schools that do not meet the AYP standards, including additional tutoring and replacing of staff. Students would also be allowed to transfer to schools (within their district) that have met their AYP's, and the former school would be required to provide the transportation to the new site. Results of school and district performance are displayed in the chart.

Physical Fitness

In the spring of each year, schools in California are required by the state to administer a physical fitness test to all students in grades five, seven, and nine. The physical fitness test measures each student's ability to perform fitness tasks in six major areas: Aerobic Capacity, Body Composition, Trunk Extension Strength, Abdominal Strength, Upper Body Strength, and Flexibility. Students who either meet or exceed the standards in all six fitness areas are considered to be physically fit or in the "healthy fitness zone" (HFZ). During the 2008-09 school year, 77% of 5th graders, 78% of 7th graders, and 87% of 9th grade students in the San Ramon Valley Unified School District either met or exceeded state fitness standards. For this school's percentage comparisons, see the chart and data tables.

Percentage of Students in Healthy Fitness Zone
Grade Level	Four of Six Standards	Five of Six Standards	Six of Six Standards
9	6.5%	32.1%	59.6%
*Scores are not disclosed when fewer than 10 students are tested in a grade level and/or subgroup.

California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE)

The California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE) is primarily used as a graduation requirement in California, but the results of this exam are also used to determine Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) for high schools, as required by the Federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) law. The CAHSEE has an English Language-Arts section and a Math section and, for purposes of calculating AYP, three performance levels were set: Advanced, Proficient, and Not Proficient. The score a student must achieve to be considered Proficient is different than the passing score for the graduation requirement.

The first table displays the percent of students achieving at the Proficient or Advanced level for the past three years.

	CAHSEE By Subject

Mathematics	85.4	85.2	49.9	85.6	84.7	51.3	89.1	89.9	53.3

The second table displays the percent of students, by group, achieving at each performance level in English Language-Arts and Math separately for the most recent testing period.

Completion of High School Graduation Requirements

Students in California public schools must pass both the English-Language Arts and Mathematics portions of the California High School Exit Examination (CAHSEE) to receive a high school diploma. For students who began the 2008-09 school year in the 12th grade, as evidenced by that school year's October CBEDS enrollment, this table displays by student group the percent who met all state and local graduation requirements for grade 12 completion, including having passed both portions of the CAHSEE or received a local waiver or state exemption. Detailed information about the CAHSEE can be found at the CAHSEE Web page, <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/tg/hs/>. Note: "N/A" means that the student group is not numerically significant.

District Expenditures

In 2007-08, the most recent year for which data is available from the state, California spent an estimated $9539[^] per student which was below the national average of $9963.[^] The more current San Ramon Valley Unified District figures (from 2008-09 FY audited financial statements) indicate an average of $8,086 spent to educate each student, based on total expenditures of $218,069,100.

Classroom Education costs accounted for 68% of this money; School Maintenance, Utilities & Operations 10%; Special Education 14%; Auxiliary Services 2%; and District Administration/Business Operations 6%.

Our district of 26,969* students spends less than the state average because we are designated a "low wealth" district, as defined by the state's complex funding formula for schools.
