Cordova High School offers a full complement of academic and vocational courses to meet the needs of its diverse student body. In addition to the traditional UC prep courses, CHS students may take Honors and/or Advanced Placement courses in English, math, science and social studies. Four years of Spanish, French and German are also available. Visual and performing arts courses are very popular among students and include drawing, painting, 3-D design, orchestra, and several levels of band and choir. The CHS Marching Band, with over 100 members, is well known throughout the area and often travels to participate in regional competitions.

To help students prepare for the future, several Academy programs are available. The Engineering and Polytech Academy offers courses in principles of engineering and engineering design, computerized manufacturing, and engineering product development.

Students in this program learn CAD software and may qualify for concurrent enrollment at CSU-Sacramento. Academy students may also participate in the national Electric Car Race, where they design, build and race their cars in an annual competition with other high school and college students.

The Business and Technology Academy students take courses in computer applications and network management. A new course in animation and web design has been added this year. Internships are also available for academy students who want to extend their learning off campus in partnership with local businesses and government agencies.

A program devoted to preparing students for careers in the culinary industry was implemented and has been very successful for interested students. Another Academy is in the field of Public Safety, which encompasses first aid, fire technology, law enforcement, etc. CHS also offers an ROP course in Careers in Education, for students who wish to pursue careers in the teaching profession. Students work in local elementary schools 2 days per week.

Because we are a designated "Newcomer School," CHS also offers English Language Development courses for our foreign-born students. We also have a Special Education program for students who need modifications in order to master the curriculum.

A full program of extracurricular activities and athletics is offered and students are encouraged to take advantage of these opportunities to enrich their high school experience.

Discipline & Climate for Learning

Parents and students are informed annually of school policies before school opens via the Parent Rights and Responsibilities document which is on the district website. Hard copies are also available in several languages. Students receive a Power Point presentation from their advisory teacher covering all the school rules, everything from attendance to dress code, athletics, to Saturday School, and discipline to Grading Policies; it's all covered. In addition, Administrators visit classes to go over the Student Code of Conduct; basically abbreviated text of the Education Code that covers discipline. In February, new, incoming and returning students receive a copy of the Course Description book which lists courses offered for next year, as well as graduation and college requirements. A Back-to-School night is held in August and Lancer News, an electronic parent newsletter is distributed each month. The school EdLine website allows parents to check their child's attendance and grades on a real-time basis.

Cordova High School also has many on-campus programs to promote a positive learning environment: the CHS Community Collaborative/Student Union which provides after school tutoring, homework help, snacks and recreational activities. A Health Assistant and Campus Monitors assist students on a daily basis. Students with peer conflicts can meet with a Counselor, Vice-Principal, or specially trained student Conflict Manager to try and resolve the issues and avoid fighting. A Freshman Orientation program connects new students to the culture, traditions and expectations of high school.

Suspension and Expulsions

Data reported is the number of suspensions and expulsions (i.e., the total number of incidents that resulted in a suspension or expulsion). The rate of suspensions and expulsions is the total number of incidents divided by the school's total enrollment as reported by CBEDS for the given year.

	Suspensions & Expulsions

Enrollment By Grade

School districts receive financial support from the state for the education of the students they serve based on how many students attend each day. Most importantly, students who attend school on a regular basis and are on time are more likely to be academically successful. Attendance and punctuality are emphasized so that the continuity of the educational program can be maintained. Our staff carefully monitors student attendance to identify those students exhibiting excessive absences and offers assistance when necessary. During the 2009-10 school year (the most current information available), the actual attendance rate for all attendance categories at Cordova High was 95.02%.

Enrollment Trend by Grade Level

Dropout & Graduation Rates

Cordova High believes that effective instruction consists of the continuous building of new concepts upon existing ones. Good attendance and grades are recognized each semester and at graduation. In hopes of preventing dropouts, the following programs are made available to students: After School Algebra Credit Recovery class, Student Union Tutorial program, summer school remediation, and test prep classes for English and Math. Several on line classes may be piloted this year for credit recovery.

Class Size

Average class sizes vary by grade level and subject area taught. In addition to credentialed teachers, students may receive assistance in the classroom from instructional assistants based on program needs (Title 1, special education, bilingual), a Resource Specialist and adult volunteers. The table indicates the average class size by grade level or subject area, as well as the number of classes offered in reference to their enrollment.

Highly Qualified Teachers

The Federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that all teachers in core subject areas meet certain requirements in order to be considered as "Highly Qualified" no later than the end of June 2006. Minimum qualifications include: possession of a Bachelor's Degree, possession of an appropriate California teaching credential, and demonstrated competence in core academic subjects.

Staff Development

Each employee is encouraged to grow professionally through self evaluation and reflection; by attending college and university classes as well as statewide workshops; by reading professional literature; and by networking. District-sponsored inservice and training are provided through our Professional Development Academy (PDA), a model of lead teachers and site level reading, math, science and technology coaches. In addition, our district staff has worked collaboratively to implement our Peer Assistance Review (PAR) program, which works in unison with BTSA (Beginning Teacher Support and Assessment) to provide an induction program for qualified new teachers. We support our teachers in pursuing National Board Certification and currently have over 35 National Board Certified teachers within the district.

The district is involved with both AB430 (Principal Training) and AB 742 (Teacher Training), trainings which increase the capacity of all staff to deliver a standards-based curriculum.

Counseling & Support Staff

It is the goal of Cordova High School to assist students to fulfill graduation, college prep and career requirements. Counselors also assist students in their social and personal development. The school gives special attention to students who experience achievement problems, difficulty coping with personal and family problems, trouble with decision making, or handling peer pressure. Counselors also assist students with college and career planning including scholarship assistance. The counselor to pupil ratio is approximately 1:536.

Parent Involvement

Parent involvement is an essential component of a successful school and we welcome parent participation and input to help make Cordova High School the best high school possible. Parents are always welcome to come on campus and visit their children's classes, as long as they stop in at the office to sign in. In addition, parents can check their child's attendance and grades on the Internet at any time using EdLine, and all teachers have voice mail and e-mail accounts to facilitate parental communication. Parent volunteers help the school in many ways. They serve on many committees, including the School Site Council, Band Boosters, PTSA, Sober Grad Night, English Learners Advisory Council, and football and other team boosters. In addition, parents may join the Academic Advisory Panel for the Business and Polytech Academies. Parent volunteers help at various school events such as chaperoning field trips, dances, Freshman Orientation, and Campus Beautification. Please call if you want to get involved. It's a great way to meet other parents and school staff, and our students are the ultimate beneficiaries.

For additional information about organized opportunities for parent involvement at Cordova High School, please contact Dan Anklam, Principal, at (916) 362-1104.

Instructional Materials

Folsom-Cordova Unified held a Public Hearing on October 7, 2010, and determined that each school within the District has sufficient and good quality textbooks, instructional materials, or science lab equipment pursuant to the settlement of Williams vs. the State of California. All students, including English learners, are given their own individual standards-aligned textbooks or instructional materials, or both, in core subjects for use in the classroom and to take home. Textbooks and supplementary materials are adopted according to a cycle developed by the State Department of Education, making the textbooks used in the school the most current available. Materials approved for use by the State are reviewed by all teachers and a recommendation is made to the School Board by a selection committee composed of teachers and administrators. All recommended materials are available for parent examination at the district office prior to adoption. The table displays information about the quality, currency, and availability of the standards-aligned textbooks and other instructional materials used at the school.

Additional Internet Access/Public Libraries

For additional research materials and Internet availability, students are encouraged to visit the public libraries located in Rancho Cordova and Folsom. These libraries contain numerous computer workstations.

Science Lab Equipment

The school stocks an adequate supply of equipment for its students. Inventory includes, but is not limited to: microscopes, slides, ring stands, clamps, support rings, utility clamps, test tubes, test tube holders and brushes, tongs, flasks, beakers, and Bunsen burners. For more information, please call the school office.

School Facilities

Cordova High School, located on a lovely 55 acre campus with nearly 250,000 square feet of classroom and support space, continues to have the feel of a park. There are over 75 mature trees, with 43 new trees planted within the last two years. The campus has over eight acres of green lawns among the buildings.

The Measure N modernization efforts have begun in summer of 2010. The initial phase was mainly infrastructure for Phase 2, the brand new two-story building that will house the English Language Department on the first floor and the Science Department on the second floor. The new facility is scheduled to be completed and ready for move in by November 2011. Phase 3, Winter 2011-12, remodel of the old Science Wing into the Culinary, Fashion and Visual Art Wing. Two new restrooms; one in the Library and one in the Counseling office will also be part of Phase 3. Phase 4, target date 2013, includes new Performing Arts Center, remodel of the Cafeteria, an access road from the PAC to the Cafeteria, and remodel of Music/Arts Center into a teacher workroom/Student Government Room. Target date 2014, includes construction of a new auxiliary Gymnasium which will double as a field-house and Stadium improvements. Last phase will include many landscape enhancements including security fencing, plants, and benches, scheduled to be completed by Fall of 2015.

Efforts to keep the grounds clean include volunteers who collect bottles and put trash in cans, and vigilant custodial efforts to remove graffiti. The district has also assigned a member of the district grounds crew to the site.

When repairs are necessary, faculty, staff and administrators can submit a work order through SchoolDude. This report goes directly to the district maintenance staff. Through dialogue and conversation, maintenance staff makes repairs usually within a week, if not sooner. Safety issues are addressed immediately.

Efforts to improve the facility are ongoing. Modernization money has been crucial to make major changes and impact on the facility. Our efforts have been noted by visiting school officials, and community members who comment on how beautiful the campus looks. Cordova High School has also benefited from the Alumni Association which has donated many outdoor lunch tables and benches, as well as a magnificent full color electronic marquee to advertise upcoming school events.

School Safety/Learning

Safety and cleanliness are high priorities at Cordova High School. There were 77 accidents reported at our school for the 2009-10 school year. Restrooms and eating/food preparation facilities are cleaned, sanitized and stocked each day. Classrooms are cleaned every other night, and trash is emptied each night. Custodians have received training and a Kivac machine is used to sanitize restrooms. Any safety hazard that is reported is reviewed immediately and resolved. Safe School plans are updated annually and any large scale safety concerns are addressed with the Director of Maintenance each spring. Emergency plans have been developed in case a threatening situation should arise. The students in the Public Safety Academy, as well as two teachers are trained and certified Community Emergency Response Team members.

First aid kits are provided for in each classroom, a revised escape route posted in each classroom to include obstacles due to construction, and a group of employees are trained in the use of an Automatic Electronic Defibrillator (AED) machine. Two AED devices are located in different areas of the campus and all staff have been trained in Code Blue procedures. Campus monitors have radios and a golf cart to transport students with minor injuries to the office. Three new handicapped restrooms were added as part of the modernization plan and the school is continuing the use of hot air hand dryers in student restrooms.

California Standards Test

The California Standards Test (CST), a component of the STAR Program, is administered to all students in the spring to assess student performance in relation to the State Content Standards. Student scores are reported as performance levels: Advanced (exceeds state standards), Proficient (meets standards), Basic (approaching standards), Below Basic (below standards), and Far Below Basic (well below standards). The combined percentage of students scoring at the Proficient and Advanced levels in English/Language Arts, Math, Social Science, Science, for the most recent three-year period, is shown. For results on course specific tests, please see <http://star.cde.ca.gov>.

Federal Intervention Program

Schools and districts receiving federal Title I funding enter Program Improvement (PI) if they do not make AYP for two consecutive years in the same content area (English/Language Arts or Mathematics) or on the same indicator (API or graduation rate). After entering PI, schools and districts advance to the next level of intervention with each additional year that they do not make AYP.

Physical Fitness

In the spring of each year, Cordova High is required by the state to administer a physical fitness test to all students in grade nine. The physical fitness test is a standardized evaluation that tracks the development of high-quality fitness programs and assists students in establishing physical activity as part of their daily lives. Results of student performance are compared to other students statewide who took the test.

Academic Performance Index

The Academic Performance Index (API) is a score on a scale of 200 to 1,000 that annually measures the academic performance and progress of individual schools in California. The state has set 800 as the API score that schools should strive to meet.

Statewide Rank: Schools receiving an API Base score are ranked in ten categories of equal size (deciles) from 1 (lowest) to 10 (highest), according to type of school (elementary, middle, or high school).

Similar Schools Rank: Schools also receive a ranking that compares that school to 100 other schools with similar demographic characteristics. Each set of 100 schools is ranked by API score from 1 (lowest) to 10 (highest) to indicate how well the school performed compared to similar schools.

The first table displays the school's API ranks and actual API point changes by student group for the past three years. The second table displays, by student group, the most recent Growth API at the school, district, and state level.

Adequate Yearly Progress

No Child Left Behind (NCLB) is a federal law enacted in January 2002 that reauthorized the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA). It mandates that all students (including students who are economically disadvantaged, are from racial or ethnic minority groups, have disabilities, or have limited English proficiency) in all grades meet the state academic achievement standards for Mathematics and English/Language Arts by 2014. Schools must demonstrate "Adequate Yearly Progress" (AYP) toward achieving that goal. The federal NCLB Act requires that all schools and districts meet the following Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) requirements:

- Participation rate on the state's standards-based assessments in English/Language Arts (ELA) and Mathematics.
- Percent proficient on the state's standards-based assessments in ELA and Mathematics.
- API as an additional indicator.
- Graduation rate (for secondary schools).

There are several consequences for schools that do not meet the AYP standards, including additional tutoring and replacing of staff. Students would also be allowed to transfer to schools (within their district) that have met their AYP's, and the former school would be required to provide the transportation to the new site. Results of school and district performance are displayed in the chart.

Completion of High School Graduation Requirements

Beginning with the graduating class of 2006, students in California public schools must pass both the English-language arts and mathematics portions of the California High School Exit Examination (CAHSEE) to receive a high school diploma. For students who began the 2009-10 school year in the 12th grade, the table displays by student group the percent who met all state and local graduation requirements for grade 12 completion, including having passed both portions of the CAHSEE or received a local waiver or state exemption. Detailed information about the CAHSEE can be found at the CDE Web site at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/tg/hs/>.

Note: 0.0% means that the student group is not numerically significant.

California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE)

The California High School Exit Exam is primarily used as a graduation requirement in California, but the results of this exam are also used to determine Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) for high schools, as required by the Federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) law. The CAHSEE has an English language-arts section and a math section and, for purposes of calculating AYP, three performance levels were set: Advanced, Proficient, and Not Proficient. The score a student must achieve to be considered Proficient is different than the passing score for the graduation requirement. The first table displays the percent of students achieving at the Proficient or Advanced level for the past three years. The second table displays the percent of students, by group, achieving at each performance level in English language-arts and math separately for the most recent testing period.

- C: Three years of college preparatory mathematics (Four recommended for UC)
- D: Two years of laboratory science (Three recommended for UC)

- F: One year of visual/performing arts
- G: One year of a college preparatory elective in one of the above subjects

All courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or better. The minimum GPA required for admission to a UC is 3.15, and 2.0 for the CSU system. Advanced Placement Classes

Cordova High encourages students to continue their education past high school. Cordova High offers several options, including Advanced Placement (AP) courses for those students seeking college level classes. Juniors and seniors achieving a score of three, four, or five on the final AP exams may qualify for college credit at most of the nation's colleges. During the 09-10 year, the pass rate on AP exams was 42%. It should be noted that some students in AP classes did not take the exam because they were concurrently enrolled in the ACE program at CSUS and qualified for college credit by earning a grade of B or better. AP courses for 2010-11 are offered in English, US and World History, Government, Spanish, French, Environmental Science and Calculus.
